

Air service to Jackson, Tennessee, is not only economically critical for the area, it is also part of a network of family and social links, as well.

With aging relatives there who require my presence often and sometimes very quickly, I'd be very disappointed and inconvenienced to discover that my only option is flying into Memphis and/or Nashville and driving to the hospitals in Jackson.

Please deny their request to discontinue the Airlink Service.