Re: Greenbrier Valley Airport
Lewisburg, West Virginia

Dear Mr. DeVany:

Per your previous correspondence, the Greenbrier Valley Airport Authority held a public meeting to discuss the various proposals for implementation of essential air service at the Greenbrier Valley Airport in Lewisburg, West Virginia, by Air Midwest Airlines.

The five options, as presented by your office, were reviewed by the Airport Authority with input from community leaders and other citizens, considering community needs and requirements, previous passenger traffic patterns, and the possibility of greater flight frequency, in order to attract additional local passengers.

This is to advise that the two preferred options (in order of preference) of the Greenbrier Valley Airport Authority are as follows:

1. Option - 4: Providing for seven (7) round trips each week to Charlotte, five (5) each week to Dulles International Airport in Washington, and two (2) each week to Pittsburgh at a subsidy of $540,579.00.
2. Option - 1: Providing for twelve (12) round trips each week to Charlotte, plus two (2) each week to Pittsburgh at an annual subsidy of $657,586.00.
