

I am very much in favor of the DOT requiring airlines to make Oxygen available and affordable for all persons requiring medical oxygen. I also favor the use of portable oxygen concentrators on board aircraft such as the Airsep and Inogen One devices permitting the use of an airline plug in for these units if batteries become discharged and need recharging for continued use on board and for deplaning. Kenneth Scott Member of EFFORTS