

all airlines should be required to provide oxygen, by oxygen tanks as well as concentrators, immediately, without charging exorbitant rates. The airlines provide services for all other disabilities for free for example wheelchairs and space for service dog are free. i have a loved one who cannot travel without supplemental oxygen. this service is vital.